Germany Must Accept Mandates of Council

Given Until Monday Noon
To Comply With the Conditions.

(By the Associated Press)
LONDON, Mar. 3.—Germany was given until Monday noon to accept the fundamental conditions laid down by the supreme allied council at Paris. The German delegates were informed by the allied representative today that if Germany does not accept those terms the allies will take immediate steps.

The first will be the occupation by allied troops of the cities of Duisburg, Dusseldorf and Rhiport (at the mouth of the Ruhr, 12 miles west of Essen) and the Ruhr region of Germany, which contains important mines and iron plants.

Second, Each allied country will place such tax on German merchandise as it may deem proper. Third, A custom boundary along the Rhine under allied control will be established.

The German delegates were informed that the only modification of the Paris reparations decision permitted to Germany would be as regards the conditions of payment. Such a reduction of the period of annuities from 42 to 30 years.

Counter Proposal Spurned.
Germany's counter proposals which were submitted to the allies on Tuesday were not susceptible of examination, Premier Lloyd George told Dr. Walter Simons, head of the German delegation in substance, after today's session of the conference had assembled at St. James palace at noon today.

After Mr. Lloyd George had finished, Dr. Simons, for the Germans, said the intention of the German government had been quite misunderstood. The German delegates, he said, would reply at noon on Monday.

PARIS, Mar. 3.—German deliveries applicable to the reparations account, including war material, are estimated at eight billion marks, it was announced by the allied reparations committee today.

This would leave twelve billion marks due on the first twenty billion marks German would pay under the Versailles treaty.

PERJURY IS TO BE CHARGE AGAINST McALESTER WOMAN

McALESTER, Mar. 2.—Credulity is given by prison officials to the final statement of John G. Ledbetter, who died in the electric chair Friday at the state penitentiary. Last letters written by Ledbetter a few moments before the execution were read by the warden after the man had paid the penalty, and in these letters Ledbetter clung to the story that Mrs. Pearl Darrow, of Muskogee, perjured herself in testifying to the alleged facts in the murder of Robert Moreland. Ledbetter's story is being investigated at Muskogee and the woman is reported to have left the city after viewing the remains of the man who gave his life for having killed his rival.

That he will cause a charge of perjury to be filed against Mrs. Pearl Darrow if he can obtain a "little more evidence" against her was the statement, today, of F. P. Whistler, Muskogee attorney, who defended John G. Ledbetter, in his trial for the murder of Robert Moreland. Ledbetter contended to his last moment that the woman "lied on me."

Whistler said today Mrs. Darrow told him after the preliminary trial in city court that Moreland told her when the two saw Ledbetter approaching them the evening of the murder that he "had a notion to take his knife and gun and kill both of you."

"When she went on the witness stand in the final trial she denied this," Whistler said. "I went on the stand too, to testify as to what she said to me."

"There are a few little matters to be investigated and the county attorney is assisting me. If we can find another witness we will charge Mrs. Darrow with perjury in connection with the trial that cost Ledbetter his life in the electric chair at the state penitentiary at McAlester last week."

According to the statement today of the Muskogee undertakers where the body of Ledbetter was brought from the penitentiary Friday morning at least 2,000 people viewed the body and most of them declared the testimony she gave against Ledbetter and which sent him to the "chair."

The woman viewed the body of Ledbetter last Saturday afternoon and intimated to members of the Williams undertaking firm they say, that her evidence on the stand against Ledbetter was not truthful.

Police Department Does Good Month's Business Is Report

The Ada Police department has been doing a good business during the past month despite the general feeling of hard times. More than 65 cases have been called to the attention of the mayor with the results of fines ranging from $8.75 to $24.75. Of this number 14 cases were appealed to the county courts. The amount taken in this month is greater than that of last month. The policemen have been bringing in cases with more than an average of two a day many of which prove good ones for the city treasury.

BUCK ACCUSED OF BANK FRAUD

The Shawnee Bank Charter
Case Not Completed, at Night Session.

SHAWNEE, Mar. 2.—Charging that Fred Dennis, state bank commissioner, knew of the transaction whereby J. F. Buck was paid $12,000 for special services and that in transferring the assets of the security state bank to the Guaranty State bank he acted "for himself and for Buck and Joe Ellis," Albert E. Romberg started suit Wednesday morning in the district court of Tecumseh asking that the contract between the bank and the Guaranty State bank be set aside.

After a tedious night session of district court, lasting until 11:30 Wednesday night, in hearing the arguments in the trial of the petition to cancel charter of the Guaranty State bank of Shawnee, court was adjourned until Thursday morning. Fred Dennis, state banking commissioner, is expected to be on the stand as the first witness Thursday.

Principal allegations of fraud produced during the day's testimony is that Buck received the $12,000 for special services at the expense of the state guaranty fund and that the assets and liabilities as set out in the contract between the banking department and the Guaranty State bank was not a statement of the true condition of the Security State bank.

Joe S. Ellis, cashier of the Guaranty bank, testified that he wrote the charter for the new institution sometime in the early morning hours of December 14, the day the Guaranty bank was opened, in the banking house in Shawnee. He could not remember whether or not the charter was signed when Dennis brought it here. He stated that he with Dennis and J. Frank Buck worked all night December 12 preparing to open the Guaranty bank, but he could not remember when the Security bank was closed.

When Ellis was asked concerning the $12,000 which Buck is alleged to have received at the expense of the tax payers of the state, he stated that he understood that the money was paid because of the fact that Buck was able to borrow money and keep the bank in solvent condition. Dennis stated, however, that all money borrowed, so far as he knew, was borrowed after the assets of the Security State bank had been placed as security.

It was brought out in the trial that Buck was made vice-president of the Security State bank and put in active charge without having purchased any stock. The plaintiff in the cause seeks to prove that this condition was brought about with the knowledge and consent of Fred G. Dennis, bank commissioner.

Judge C. B. Stewart of Oklahoma City and Chapman and Adams of Shawnee are representing the Guaranty State bank in the case. W. H. Zwick is representing the attorney general's department. M. M. Thomas is the bank commissioner. Goode and Dierker and Maben and Pitman the plaintiff.

RUSSIAN REVOLT IS UNDER CONTROL

(By the Associated Press)
LONDON, Mar. 3.—Latest reports received by the British government tend to show that the Russian soviet government troops have suppressed the revolt in Petrograd and Moscow, the under secretary for foreign affairs stated in the house of commons today.

RUSSIAN ACQUITTED ON RITUAL MURDER CHARGE IS IN U. S.

Mendel Beiliss.

Mendel Beiliss, whose arrest and trial at Kiev, Russia, in 1913, on "ritual murder" charges startled the world, has just arrived in New York. Beiliss, who was entertained at a banquet upon his arrival, stated that after his acquittal of the fanatical charge that he had murdered a Christian Russian boy as a matter of Hebraic ritual, he was received like royalty in the various countries of Europe which he visited. He has been living in Palestine for several years and his wife and five children are there now.

VOLSTEAD SAYS LANDIS DID NOT VIOLATE LAW

Says However Would Injure
Jurist To Hold Proceedings.

(By the Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Mar. 3.—Dissenting from the action of the house judiciary committee in recommending investigation by the next congress of impeachment charges against Federal Judge Landis, chairman Volstead in a minority report today declared that postponement tended only to discredit the judge and weaken him in the administration of justice.

Representative Volstead expressed the belief that no one member of the committee would vote for impeachment.

"No violation of law on the part of Judge Landis was called to the attention of the committee," the chairman declared. "nor is it believed that the judge is guilty of any act that would establish moral turpitude."

"One or both grounds would have to be established before impeachment proceedings could be maintained."

Basket Ball Tourney Opens Here Tomorrow

Fast Teams Will Contest for Honors in Two Day Meet.

The East Central basketball tournament is all ready for the first whistle tomorrow afternoon at 1 o'clock. All the preliminary plans have been completed and the indications are that the contests will be carried out on schedule time. With at least twenty-five teams expected, the Normal gymnasium will be a busy place Friday afternoon and evening and all day Saturday and evening.

The drawing will take place at 12 o'clock Friday at the office of the Normal. Schedules for both boys and girls will be posted immediately thereafter at the normal and at a convenient place down town so that the progress of the tournament may be watched by everyone who is interested even though one may not be able to visit all the games.

Some of the best high school basketball teams that have ever visited East Central will be present. Ada high school will be represented by the two best teams that have ever represented that school. The Ada girls are undefeated and have taken all opponents into camp by large scores. Their work on the court is really exceptional and they

PRES. WILSON WILL RESUME LAW PRACTICE

To Form Partnership With Bainbridge Colby, Says
Official Announcement.

(By the Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Mar. 3.—President Wilson formally announced today that he would "resume the practice of law" in a partnership with Bainbridge Colby, the retiring secretary of state. The firm will maintain offices in New York and Washington.

The announcement was made at the White House in the following statement:

"President Wilson made the announcement today that at the conclusion of his term of office he would resume the practice of law, forming a partnership with the secretary of state, Bainbridge Colby." The firm will have offices in New York and Washington.

The president's announcement, wholly unexpected by the public mind one of his least known attainments, that of being a lawyer. He was graduated in law from the University of Virginia in 1881.

Mr. Wilson did not remain long at the practice of law, however, for in 1885 he began his career as a college professor.

AGED MOTHER OF SEVEN CHILDREN KILLED BY TRAIN

(By the Associated Press)
McALESTER, Mar. 3.—Blinded by the glare of the headlights, Mrs. Nellis Russell, 60 years old, the wife of a miner, was run down by a Rock Island train Wednesday night in the Hartshorne yards, near here. Her head was severed as the train passed over the body. She was the mother of seven children.

JAMES J. DAVIS THE NEW SECY. OF LABOR

ON BOARD PRESIDENT-ELECT HARDING'S SPECIAL TRAIN EN ROUTE TO WASHINGTON, March 3.—President Elect Harding today definitely announced the selection of James J. Davis, of Pittsburgh to be secretary of labor and of George B. Christian, Jr., to be secretary to the president.

WASHINGTON, March 3.—Mr. Davis' selection completed Harding's cabinet slate. The choice is understood to have been reached some days ago, but complications arose which cast the final decision into doubt until the last minute.

Mr. Davis is a former steel worker who still carries a union card, although he now devotes most of his attention to affairs of the Moose Lodge, of which he is the ranking official of the United States.

ROOT MAY PRESENT HARDING'S LEAGUE TO OTHER NATIONS

Elihu Root.

The elimination of Elihu Root as a cabinet member does not mean that his services will not be sought by President-elect Harding when Harding enters the White House. Washington diplomats believe that Harding will select the former secretary of war and state to participate in the formulation of the American plan for promoting a society of nations. It is believed that Root will be the man selected by Harding to go abroad to present his views to European diplomats.

CONGRESS WILL PAY TRIBUTE TO CHAMP CLARK

Funeral Rites Will Be Conducted in House of Representatives Saturday.

(By the Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Mar. 3.—The house of representatives had completed arrangements today for funeral services in the house chamber Saturday morning for its late minority leader and former speaker, Champ Clark, who died here yesterday after a brief illness. The services which will be held at 10:30 will be a tribute such as had been paid to only a few in the history of the American congress. It will be the first time the house chamber has been used for such a purpose since 1914, when services were held for the late Seneca E. Payne, for more than 30 years a representative from New York.

Both houses of congress voted to appoint committee to attend the funeral as representatives of their respective bodies. The house committee is headed by speaker Gillette and includes in addition to the Missouri delegation, a number of representatives including Representative Ferris of Oklahoma.

NO CHANCE FOR THE BONUS BILL THIS SESSION

(By the Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Mar. 2.—Hope of passing the naval appropriation bill at this session of congress was abandoned today by Senator Poindexter, republican of Washington, who has been in charge of it, and the senate proceeded to other business.

Senator Poindexter said that from the experience of the last four days during which the bill has been debated, he was satisfied that it could not be enacted before adjournment tomorrow noon and that he was unwilling to hold up other important matters to press it.

The Washington senator attacked the measure as passed by the house declaring that had it been enacted, it would have led to the "demoralization and paralysis of the American navy."

A new naval bill will have to be drafted at the special session of congress which President Harding is expected to call for April 4.

JIM HARRIS OF MUSKOGEE GETS HONORARY PLACE

(By the Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Mar. 3.—James A. Harris of Wagoner, Oklahoma, was seated by the national committee as committeeman from Oklahoma. He succeeds the late Jake L. Hamilton, who was shot and killed by Clara Smith.

MUSKOGEE, Mar. 3.—A telegram received today from L. G. Disney, of Muskogee, now at Washington, announced that the republican national committee meeting in that city by unanimous vote seated James A. Harris, of Wagoner, as republican national committeeman from Oklahoma.

Capital City Ready For Inaugural Rites

Fire Destroys Store House; Neighboring Houses Unharmed

A fire which destroyed the store house of the A. H. Constance residence on the corner of Twelfth and Rennie, almost caused the destruction of several of the best residences of the city and many dollars worth of property, when it occurred about 2 o'clock this morning. It was first noticed by nearby residents.

The fire department was notified and arrived on the scene in time to prevent any loss of property except the store house which was destroyed. The exact origin of the fire could not be learned.

Workers Are Receiving
Good Encouragement
From Every One.

Progressive residents of Ada are joining the Good Roads Motor club. By noon today fully ninety per cent of those visited by the membership committees had become members of the club. Of the remainder the majority had merely deferred joining, with only a few absolutely refusing. The membership drive began this morning with a parade of band and automobiles on Main street. Immediately following the several committees went to work securing members. They will continue their efforts until late this evening, at which time it is believed that practically all of the live wires of the city will have become aligned with the movement for decent roads.

The membership drive is being conducted simultaneously in other towns in the county and at Stratford. On Monday members of the club will go to Stratford and assist in completing the drive in that center. Tuesday following committees will go to Allen, Roff, Francis, Fitzhugh, Stonewall and other towns in the county to aid the boosters in those communities in going over the top. And then, some day later in the week, boosters from the neighboring towns will come to Ada and help the local men in securing a one hundred per cent membership.

In the drive today the city has been divided into four districts in order that there may be as little duplication of work as possible on the part of the committees. Main street and Broadway separates the districts. L. A. Braly is chairman of the committee working district one, or the southeastern section of the city. Jim Coleman and Grant Irwin are joint chairmen of the committee in district two, or the northeastern section of the city. In the northwestern section, or district three, the committee is headed by Burris Crandall. District four, the southwestern part of the city, is being looked after by Jess Emery and assistants. H. B. Roach is not confining his efforts to district lines, but is working where his conscience dictates as a committee at large. Tonight at eight o'clock the workers will assemble at Mr. Braly's office and the results of the day's campaign will be determined.

Plans are now being formulated to hold a Good Roads Day in Ada some time next week, possibly Thursday or Friday. The exact date will be announced as soon as determined. A good roads expert of national reputation will be here to address the boosters. Delegations from every section of the county will be present, and talks will be made by prominent workers from every town. It is believed that it will be the biggest event of the kind ever held in Pontotoc county.

You who read this article, men of Ada, have you joined the Good Roads Motor club? In dry weather do you enjoy riding in the ruts and bumping the bumps? When the humidity is heavy upon the land do you find much pleasure in plowing through the mud? Do you want to see Ada and Pontotoc county keep up with the march of progress? Or do you want to remain fifty years behind the times, as backward as our so-called roads are today?

Men of Ada, if you are for progress, if you have the welfare of the community at heart, if you want to see your town and county take its place with the modern communities of the country, then join the Good Roads Motor club, get into the fight and help bring decent highways to Pontotoc county.

If you haven't already done so, get in touch with one of the membership committeemen and put your name on the dotted line.

Raining Now, But Weather Man Says Clear and Colder Tomorrow.

(By the Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Mar. 3.—President-elect Harding reached Washington at 1 o'clock this afternoon and went into conference with inaugural officials on details of tonight's ceremony.

WASHINGTON, Mar. 3.—Despite the expressed desire of President-elect Harding for simple inauguration ceremonies, Washington today had assumed very much of a pre-inauguration day air. The streets were a little more crowded than usual, hotel rooms were somewhat scarcer and flags and bunting in profusion made their appearance along Pennsylvania avenue and in the downtown section.

Finishing touches were given to the stand on the east Portico of the capitol, where Mr. Harding will take the oath of office and deliver his inaugural address.

Washington police made final preparations to handle the crowd expected to line Pennsylvania Avenue to see President Wilson and President-elect Harding ride to the capitol.

Troops of cavalry at Ft. Meyer, who will form the single escorts for the presidential party, and several companies of marines from Quantico, who will be on guard along the avenue, held final drills in preparation for the part they are to play in the event.

To Washington residents and old-timers today's contrast with former "day-before-inauguration days" was particularly noticeable. They recalled that in former years the day before had seen the historic thoroughfares leading from the capitol to the White House thronged with visitors, hotel lobbies crowded and hotel rooms at a premium.

Missing were the long rows of temporary stands at convenient points along the avenue from which thousands the next day would view the big parade and cheer the outgoing and the incoming presidents.

Noticeable also was the absence of the rattle of drums and the flare of bands as scores of marching clubs, political and military organizations marched through the city to advertise themselves or their community and to await the big day.

A light rain that began last night still was falling today, but for inauguration day the weather bureau had predicted "clear and colder."

Greeted by Large Crowd.

WASHINGTON, Mar. 3.—Crowds of inaugural visitors and home folks gathered in and around the union station to greet President-elect Harding on his arrival here from Marion, Ohio this afternoon. The station concourse was jammed, while hundreds no so fortunate as to be able to get indoors broved a misty rain to get a glimpse of the new president-to-be.

A special detail of nearly one hundred police was on hand to keep open a lane leading from the train shed to the President's room at the station and to open a way for the automobiles for the party on leaving the station.

Vice-president-elect, Calvin Coolidge and Mrs. Coolidge were to greet Mr. and Mrs. Harding and their party in the presidential room and accompany them to the New Willard hotel, where the President-elect and Mrs. Harding will make their headquarters until they go to the White House tomorrow afternoon.

City School Notes

Senior Class Entertains.
Members of the senior class entertained the student body at the high school chapel service Thursday morning. The following splendid program was delightfully rendered.

Class yell.
Talk on "Class Spirit," by Don Evans.

Class song, by class.
Vocal solo, by May Guest.
Talk on "Values of Home Economics in the School" by Evelyn Zorn.

Reading, by Ida Hoeg.
Vocal solo, by Reva Anderson.
Piano solo, by Magdalen Yeargin.
Jokes, by Truman Harrison.
Vocal solo, by Clarine Roach.

The program was enjoyed very much by everyone present, and demonstrated that the senior class includes many talented students who have not spent their school days in vain.

At the conclusion of the program the junior, sophomore and freshman classes each have the senior class a rousing fifteen-rah cheer, in token of their appreciation of the program.

The senior class organization consists of the following officers: Don Evans, president; Tosca Cummins, vice-president; and Clarine Roach, secretary-treasurer. There are fifty-three members in the class at the present time, and they are said to be doing the best of work.

Class Song.
The following is the class song, prepared by a member of the class: As we come to the end of our high school days,

And we look o'er years that are gone,
Our thoughts go back o'er our studious ways.

And ideals that have led us on;
Do you know what the end, that is drawing nigh.

Will mean to each lad and lass,
When we all must part from old Ada Hi.

And the nineteen-twenty-one class,
It was four years ago that we started in.

In a class for work and fun,
To do well whatever we should be.

And with honor be said well done;
We have had to work hard, but we'll make our fame

In future years to come;
In the world stand high in the ranks of fame

For the victories we have won.
We're nearing the end of our high school year.

And the end of a happy life;
For we leave dear friends that true always.

In a life of rare and strife,
By our motto we ever shall be guided.

Our color will never fade,
And we'll not forget old Ada Hi.

And the friendships we have made.
Jokes.

The "jokes" read by Truman Harrison were enjoyed very much by the student body. They are printed below:

Soup: When do you expect to finish your physics course?
Guber: In the course of time.

Mr. Cox: What makes you look so lean this afternoon?
Mr. Felix: Oh I've been waiting for service at the Hi school cafeteria.

Mrs. Lee: Now that I have clearly explained the meaning of the word defeat, let someone make a sentence with it.

Charles Cunningham: Soap and water are good for the feet.
Sophomore: Ruh, my father is rich and got a wooden leg.

Freshman: Shoot, that's nothing my mother has a cedar chest.
What is Rusty's price in the Hi school and does he want to sell?

Why is Mr. Hill so cruel hearted?
What surveyor is Mr. Felix tailor?

Planks for a Bolshevik Platform.
No classes before 11:30, and none after 12:00.

No rules but those of Bolshevikism.
House mothers should be both deaf and blind.

No prescribed courses except two hours in Bolshevikism.
Seventy-five per cent required work to be taken at the Palm Garden.

Under-graduates can major only in wooing and minor in love making.
The high school teachers report that the 360 students are doing good work, and this report is to be one of the most successful in the history of the institution.

Athletics.
The announcement was made at the chapel service that the girls basketball team will play Weleetka high at the High school Friday night. Miss Margaret Cameron is the coach of the girls team. She has not chosen the one's who are to play in the game but states that she has a fine class from which to select material. The following girls have attended most of the practice games and are said to be good players: Bernice Roach, Opal Dagg, Ruth Mount, Ora Ewing, Inez Love, Pearl Harrison and Willie McNew.

Coach C. R. Cox announces that a team of boys will be selected by him to play Mansville high Friday evening. His team will be selected from the following list of boys who have attended most of the practice games, and play well: Laird, Bertrick, Evans, Souterland, Copeland, Nealy, Malloy Newton, Gregg, Potts, Morris, Rayburn, Smith, McCoy and Simpson.

These two games are looked forward to with a great deal of eagerness by the students. The Weleetka girls have been playing a good game and the boys from Mansville have won each of their five games this season by overwhelming scores.

HAS ARTIST HELD TO ONE IDEA OF U. S. BEAUTIES OVER A SPAN OF EIGHT YEARS?

Mrs. John Barrymore, whom artist Paul Hellen called the "most beautiful woman in America" eight years ago, at left, and Miss Ruby de Remer, his new choice. Below is Hellen.

Eight years ago Paul Hellen, who had then won fame with his portrayal of beautiful women, came to the U. S. from France, and, after studying American types of beauty, declared that Mrs. Leonard M. Thomas, now Mrs. John Barrymore, was "the most beautiful woman in America." And now Mr. Hellen, in America, has chosen Miss Ruby de Remer as his present ideal of American beauty. Art critics, after a study of the pictures of both women above, declare there are many points in common in the classic features and expression of Mrs. Barrymore and Miss de Remer. Certainly no one disputes French artist's opinion that they are both beautiful.

Shade Trees Beautify and Are a Great Comfort Too

Farm and Ranch.
Shade trees make much difference in the appearance of the home. They add much to the comfort as well as the attractiveness of the farmstead. They retard the bleak winds of winter and arrest the parching winds of summer. They cast their shadows over the house and cool the yard, thus making outdoor life in summer more pleasant and comfortable.

There are many good kinds of trees suitable for shade. Much depends upon the moisture and the kind of soil. The oaks are attractive and useful. They are sturdy, strong and pliant, and add dignity to the farmstead. Most of them are easily transplanted. But they are rather slow in growth.

The maples are very pretty. This is especially true with the silver maple. The sugar maple is even more useful though hardly so attractive. They grow rather slowly and are known as hard maples. The silver, soft maple, grows very rapidly and is easily transplanted. It is one of the prettiest trees of the forest or lawn.

The hackberry is hardy, scrubby and not very attractive when compared to other trees. But where the soil is very shallow and the moisture rather scarce they are reliable and certainly worth transplanting. In the blackland belt of Texas they are very popular. They grow rapidly and stand storms heroically.

The elms have much sentiment and legend surrounding them. From the time this country was first settled to the present, elms have been popular as shade trees. There are several kinds adapted to yards and lawns. The American elm found favor in many portions of the country. Elms bear transplanting well; make fine shade and add dignity and charm to the farmstead. Beetles are sometimes troublesome, but otherwise the trees are hardy. They grow on most soils and stand severe climates.

Sycamores are common and much might be said in their behalf. It is said that a street in Washington, D. C., is especially attractive because of giant sycamores. They have a way of casting bark, that is, the young bark grows under the old and the old splits curl and fall, giving rise to the phrase casting bark.

The cedar is objectionable; as an evergreen it is very common. But the tree is host of cedar rust, which is a pest of apple trees. In the fruit growing regions of some states, Pecan is one of the most desirable trees for the yard or lawn. They, like the hickories and the walnut (black walnut), are very glow growers and susceptible to pest and adverse climatic conditions. Yet they are so valuable for nuts, for shade and for ornament that they are always worth growing.

Box elder makes a very dense shade and has very pretty foliage. Its mass always attracts lovers of trees. It is in fact one of the maples, as it belongs to the same botanical family, but its habit of growth is quite different. Beetles are said to be troublesome on box elders. It is in many respects a good tree for shade and ornament. It lives readily when transplanted and grows very fast under ordinary conditions.

WITH THE WOMEN OF TODAY
BY EDITH MORIARTY

The League of American Pen Women has branched out into a new field with gratifying success. The New York auxiliary, of which Mrs. Ruth Mason Rice is the president, inaugurated a play writing contest some time ago and the result of this competition has just been announced.

Of the scores of short plays written and submitted by the members, four exceptionally interesting and effective playlets have been chosen for mention and production. "P's and Q's," by Annie Nathan Meyer; "The Door of Miracles," by Ruth Murray Underhill; "Euphenista," by Elizabeth de Aliaga, and "White Talps," by Faith Van Valkenburg Vilas, are the successful playlets, and these will be presented with special casts chosen from the best plays now on Broadway. They will be given under brilliant social and artistic patronage at the Morisco theater some time before the holidays.

The New York auxiliary is the most active of all branches affiliated with the national organization. Mrs. Rice is supported by a most active official family, including Grace Thompson Seton as vice-president; May Arno Schwatt, treasurer; Marchesa Theodoro Marcene, corresponding secretary, and Ruth Waterbury, recording secretary. The production of the group of plays is under the special direction of Helen Shesgreen as business manager and

Mr. Ruth Mason Rice. Grace Griswold as director. Mrs. Shesgreen is at home in theatrical affairs. She is the wife of a well known and highly successful theatrical manager, while Miss Griswold, besides being an actress of international distinction (she was one of the American invaders of London with Mrs. Wiggs of the Cabbage Patch), has long been identified with the new movements in the American theater. She has staged many plays for Broadway and was the first woman manager in any New York theater.

WITH THE WOMEN OF TODAY

The League of American Pen Women has branched out into a new field with gratifying success. The New York auxiliary, of which Mrs. Ruth Mason Rice is the president, inaugurated a play writing contest some time ago and the result of this competition has just been announced.

Of the scores of short plays written and submitted by the members, four exceptionally interesting and effective playlets have been chosen for mention and production. "P's and Q's," by Annie Nathan Meyer; "The Door of Miracles," by Ruth Murray Underhill; "Euphenista," by Elizabeth de Aliaga, and "White Talps," by Faith Van Valkenburg Vilas, are the successful playlets, and these will be presented with special casts chosen from the best plays now on Broadway. They will be given under brilliant social and artistic patronage at the Morisco theater some time before the holidays.

The New York auxiliary is the most active of all branches affiliated with the national organization. Mrs. Rice is supported by a most active official family, including Grace Thompson Seton as vice-president; May Arno Schwatt, treasurer; Marchesa Theodoro Marcene, corresponding secretary, and Ruth Waterbury, recording secretary. The production of the group of plays is under the special direction of Helen Shesgreen as business manager and

Mr. Ruth Mason Rice. Grace Griswold as director. Mrs. Shesgreen is at home in theatrical affairs. She is the wife of a well known and highly successful theatrical manager, while Miss Griswold, besides being an actress of international distinction (she was one of the American invaders of London with Mrs. Wiggs of the Cabbage Patch), has long been identified with the new movements in the American theater. She has staged many plays for Broadway and was the first woman manager in any New York theater.

Shade Trees Beautify and Are a Great Comfort Too

Farm and Ranch.
Shade trees make much difference in the appearance of the home. They add much to the comfort as well as the attractiveness of the farmstead. They retard the bleak winds of winter and arrest the parching winds of summer. They cast their shadows over the house and cool the yard, thus making outdoor life in summer more pleasant and comfortable.

There are many good kinds of trees suitable for shade. Much depends upon the moisture and the kind of soil. The oaks are attractive and useful. They are sturdy, strong and pliant, and add dignity to the farmstead. Most of them are easily transplanted. But they are rather slow in growth.

The maples are very pretty. This is especially true with the silver maple. The sugar maple is even more useful though hardly so attractive. They grow rather slowly and are known as hard maples. The silver, soft maple, grows very rapidly and is easily transplanted. It is one of the prettiest trees of the forest or lawn.

The hackberry is hardy, scrubby and not very attractive when compared to other trees. But where the soil is very shallow and the moisture rather scarce they are reliable and certainly worth transplanting. In the blackland belt of Texas they are very popular. They grow rapidly and stand storms heroically.

The elms have much sentiment and legend surrounding them. From the time this country was first settled to the present, elms have been popular as shade trees. There are several kinds adapted to yards and lawns. The American elm found favor in many portions of the country. Elms bear transplanting well; make fine shade and add dignity and charm to the farmstead. Beetles are sometimes troublesome, but otherwise the trees are hardy. They grow on most soils and stand severe climates.

Sycamores are common and much might be said in their behalf. It is said that a street in Washington, D. C., is especially attractive because of giant sycamores. They have a way of casting bark, that is, the young bark grows under the old and the old splits curl and fall, giving rise to the phrase casting bark.

The cedar is objectionable; as an evergreen it is very common. But the tree is host of cedar rust, which is a pest of apple trees. In the fruit growing regions of some states, Pecan is one of the most desirable trees for the yard or lawn. They, like the hickories and the walnut (black walnut), are very glow growers and susceptible to pest and adverse climatic conditions. Yet they are so valuable for nuts, for shade and for ornament that they are always worth growing.

Box elder makes a very dense shade and has very pretty foliage. Its mass always attracts lovers of trees. It is in fact one of the maples, as it belongs to the same botanical family, but its habit of growth is quite different. Beetles are said to be troublesome on box elders. It is in many respects a good tree for shade and ornament. It lives readily when transplanted and grows very fast under ordinary conditions.

With the season fast advancing and with goods that ought to sell, he at least agreed with Sherman, war most certainly was — Well, it is strange how fearsome fancies flit across the troubled mind, and the fear of going "bughouse," left the thought of Bug behind.

In days ago when trade was brisk, when he felt so sure and smug, he'd refused a Selling Service represented by a bug. With his business prospects brightest he declined with such disdain, that the "print-smith" who had asked him never spoke of it again. But, thought he, with storm clouds rising, better seek most any port than to drift in troubled waters ending in the Bankrupt's Court. Maybe we should have a moral to adorn this little tale 'bout this Advertising Service turning "Stickers into "Kale." And that we should give in detail how the Service pulled him through, but we'd rather spend the same time showing what 'twill do for you.

THE BOYHOOD OF THE YEAR.

"When the measured dance of the hours brings back the happy smile of spring, the buried dead is born again in the life-glance of the sun. The germs which perished to the eye within the cold breast of the earth spring up with joy in the bright realm of day."

Poetical spring, with its myriad of wonders, greets us on every hand. We talk of spring, we speak of the beautiful days, the lovely weather—and yet we fail to appreciate it in its true worth. If it came but once in a hundred years or even in a decade instead of every twelve-month, if we burst forth with the sound of a tropical hurricane, and not in its characteristic silence, what wonder and expectation there would be in all hearts to behold the miraculous change! As it is, only necessity is suggested by the silent succession. To most men there is no wonder in the change of the seasons. Only a cessation of the miracle would be miraculous. In our every-day world the withdrawal of God's power would be far more wonderful than its perpetual exercise now seems.

Even the most hardened among us can but be affected by the advent of spring. There is something in the softness of the air, in the lengthening of the days, in the very sounds and odors of the sweet time, that caresses us and consoles us after the rigorous weeks of winter.

The spirits of sprites of the outdoors are beckoning to us. Our offices and our stores and our homes become almost unendurable. We long to be out in God's free air, drinking in the radiant sunshine, inhaling the pure ozone of the limitless spaces. We would leave behind our sordid business cares and the worries of commercial life and go out to commune with nature.

The bard has said that "In the spring a young man's fancy lightly turns to thoughts of love." It is the love time of existence—love of our fellow man, love of the great outdoors and its countless creatures. The young and the old are imbued with the spirit of romance when the verdant touch of spring sits upon all the land. In our desires we become as children again. We would sing with Edgar Guest:

"I'd like to be a boy again, a carefree prince of joy again,
I'd like to read the hills and see the way I used to go;
I'd like the tattered shirt again, the knickers thick with dirt again,
The ugly, dusty feet that long ago I knew.
I'd like to play first base again, and Silver's curves to face again,
I'd like to climb the way I did, a spreading apple tree;
For knowing what I do today, could I but go back and play
I'd make full measure of the joys that boyhood gave me."

A MODEL WOMAN.

What is a model woman? asks a newspaper. And in reply readers are painting lovely word pictures of the woman of their dreams.

Now comes the classic tribute to the model woman was that which was written by the Englishman, Jonathan Swift, in memory of Esther Johnson. Swift described her as "the truest, most virtuous and valuable friend, that I, or perhaps any other person, ever was blessed with."

Of her Swift wrote:
"In conversation she was never given to interruption, or appeared eager to put in her word.

"She spoke in most agreeable voice, in the plainest words.
"She was but little versed in the common topics of female chat; scandal, censure and detraction never came out of her mouth.

"She read carefully the best books which serve to open and enlarge the mind. She bought clothes as seldom as possible, and those as plain and cheap as consisted with the situation she was in; and wore no lace for many years.

"Honor, truth and liberality, good nature and modesty were the virtues she chiefly possessed. She laughed at no one's mistakes, and if a good thing were spoken, but neglected, she would not let it fall, but set it in the best light to those who were present."

And she was as beautiful as she was good, for she "was looked upon as one of the most beautiful, graceful and agreeable young women in London, only a little too fat."

THE JOB OF KILLING A MAN.

The Utah legislature has repealed its infamous "shotgun execution" law, and will hereafter electrocute condemned murderers. The gun was no improvement over the gallows, Utah found. Hence the electric chair.

Utah, you remember, inaugurated the "shotgun" execution some years ago. Murderers were given the "privilege" of choosing between the rope and the bullet. Most elected to be launched into eternity by aid of the gun.

So far so good.
The law provided that five citizens should be chosen to do the shooting.

At the last "shotgun" execution 75 men applied for the job.

Only five were chosen, and were paid $70 each for sending a bullet into a human heart.

That shooting set the state to thinking. Some citizens argued that such a large list of ready shooters indicated a growing desire to take human life, legally, and for a price, of course, but killing, just the same.

WHEAT CONDITIONS IN STATE SHOWING UP GOOD

(By the Associated Press)

OKLAHOMA CITY, Mar. 3.—Oklahoma wheat sown in September has stood and made good root and the general growing conditions are good, according to the semi-monthly crop report ending February 23, issued here today by the state department of agriculture and the federal bureau of crop estimates co-operating. Uneasiness over possible damage of the green bug is contained in the report, although the recent freeze will have some effect on exterminating the newly born bugs, the report says.

A falling off in the oats acreage due to the fear of the green bug, has been reported to the department, according to the summary, although other reports indicate an increased amount of seeding. Barley is progressing nicely, the report says.

Much of the cotton still in the fields is being plowed under, the summary continues. The landowners are not insisting upon so much cotton from renters, but are allowing a greater acreage of food and feed crops.

"A greater potato acreage is in prospect from reports received by these offices, planting already well along and growers urging the treatment of both white and sweet potatoes to control scab and black rot," says the report.

"Pasture and livestock are in satisfactory condition. A farmer in Woodward county reports a return of $100 during January from eggs and butter fat and concludes that this is the best way to market his kaffir cow. Kaffir was bringing 25 cents, eggs 35, and butter fat, 38."

Commenting upon evidences of the green-bug in the state, the report declares that appearance of the parasites which annually held the green-bug in check has been noted in both Texas and Oklahoma. The recent cold spell recently added in killing off the recently born bugs, it adds, but was without noticeable effect on those in mature stages.

TULSA, Mar. 3.—Directors of the chamber of commerce have endorsed the plans of the local lodge of Odd Fellows who expect to raise by subscription, a fund of $1,000 which will be spent for the entertainment of visitors to Tulsa during the state I. O. O. F. convocation to convene April 25. Not less than 5,000 Odd Fellows are expected for the convocation, according to M. L. Poundstone, chairman of the local committee on arrangements.

What Every American Should Know About His Country and Its Opportunities

A Russian Trapper Boy Now One of the Leaders of the Fur Industry in America

IN the fur industry in America are found many notable examples of the opportunities which our government under the Constitution as adopted in 1787 has given to the industrious people who have come from all lands to make their home with us. The story of the rise of these fur merchants and dealers from penniless immigrants to leaders in their industry reads like a romance from a book of fiction. One of these merchants is Charles Weinchenker. Forty years ago, he was trapping animals in Russia—a trapper-boy. Today he buys the furs and skins of thousands of trapper-boys and prepares them for the clothing trade. Another leader in this industry is Joseph Steiner, who came to this country as a poor boy from Bohemia, Austria, in the early seventies to try his fortune in the New World. Having spent several years as a worker for a large fur house, it was not long until he started in business for himself, and today thousands of Americans wear furs from the house of Joseph Steiner & Co. Another of these merchants is George W. Herzog, who in association with Philip B. Fouke and Funsten & Co., controls the International Fur Exchange in St. Louis, where more than 75 million dollars worth of furs are sold each year. Other leaders in this industry who have climbed up to success from humble positions because of the advantages our government gives to those who wish to succeed are M. Eutong, who came from Russia; Gus Fentz, who was born in Germany; Mike Hollander and Anton Chapel, who specialize in the dressing and dyeing of furs; Jonas and Aaron Mannburg, who lead in the manufacture of hatters' furs; Otto Kahn, Julius Klingman, Fred Kaufman, Abe and I. G. Gottlieb—these all have achieved success and risen to prominence and influence in the fur industry by their own efforts.

The fur industry is considered to be the oldest industry in the United States. It commenced with the discovery of the Hudson River, and the first fur traders were the discoverers of this river and of Manhattan Island. These discoverers bartered with the Indian owners of the Island of Manhattan and received from them quantities of beaver skins. New York City is considered to be the largest fur market in the world and the largest manufacturing and consumer centre of furs and fur garments. The industry in New York employs more than 18,000 people, the people of the United States spend more than $300,000,000 annually for furs and fur garments. Fur skins are imported from Russia, Germany, Australia and Canada. The United States furnishes the muskrat, the racoon, the opossum and skunk.

MUCH FREIGHT STOLEN EVERY YEAR IN ENGLAND

(By the Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Mar. 3.—Light fingered gentry in England get away with millions of dollars worth of freight in transit every year, Consul General Skinner has reported on the strength of London Chamber of Commerce figures. British commercial circles, Mr. Skinner said, were "much exercised" over it and passed claims of this kind aggregating nearly $2,000,000 in 59 weeks, an average of more than $47,000 a week and not including insurance company losses, uninsured property of the "enormous claims paid by shipowners." One shipping company alone met claims at the rate of 250,000 pounds a year, he added.

AGED COUPLE TO MEET RELATIVES AT ANNIVERSARY

(By the Associated Press.)

SAPULPA, Mar. 3.—Ten children, 25 grandchildren and one great grand child in addition to daughters and sons-in-law will be the guests of Mr. and Mrs. William Rupert of this city on April 1 when the couple celebrates its golden wedding anniversary with what promises to be the largest family reunion ever recorded in eastern Oklahoma.

Mrs. Rupert declared with a chuckle on the occasion of the announcement of her plans that every grandchild will leave her house that day with a full share of ice cream and cake. "A grandma who doesn't feed cake and ice cream to her grandchildren isn't a real grandma," she said.

Rupert was a plasterer by trade when the couple was married, but his calling carried him all over the country and it was an inconvenience to move with a large family, he and his wife decided. He is now a constable here.

Sixteen children were born to them, five sons and eleven daughters. All the sons took up their father's trade and the ten children living are all married.

"Of course it is impossible," said Mrs. Rupert, speaking of the approaching reunion, "to have all my family here and his wife decided. He is equally impossible to have all of them for dinner. But during the course of the day I am certainly going to have every child, grandchild and the grandson visit me."

"Raising that family is about the biggest thing we ever did," Mrs. Rupert added, "but with raising that family we didn't have time to do much else."

Socialists Are Assaulted.

TOKIO.—It is reported that while some 200 socialists were holding an ostensible new year social gathering at a club, about 50 members of a gambling association and others armed with wooden swords and other weapons came on the scene in motor-cars, broke into the room where the socialists were gathered, and assaulted them, shouting, "Down with the traitors!"

A number of socialists were hurt. Many well-known socialist leaders were present. The socialists allege that police who were present at the time of the breaking up of their gathering did nothing to prevent the disturbance.

MIAMI, Mar. 2.—The mine turn-in of the Oklahoma-Kansas mining field slumped last week to one of the smallest outputs ever reported, according to figures of operators, compiled here. Zinc and lead prices fell proportionately to the turn-in. It is shown:
Ten mines in the field reported a production of 2,635,160 pounds of zinc mined last week and 2,337,319 pounds of lead. The total amount of zinc shipments made from the field since the first of the year is 45,119,930 pounds and lead, 12,687,670 pounds.

Love's Wages.
The wages of Love are small so small
You scarce might know they were paid at all.
A glance, a smile, or the clasp of hands,
The coin of a heart that understands;
A name soft whispered, a lingered kiss—
The wages of Love are paid in this.
But, oh, the magic such coin can buy—
The waking joy of a dawn-flushed sky,
Drudgery speeding on skylark's wings,
Sons in the heartbeats of common things;
And firelit shadows of evening blent
With peace and comfort and all content.

The wages of Love are small, so small
One scarce could say that they cost at all.
Yet lives are lonely, and hearts still ache
In bitter lack for the wee coin's sake;
And many a silk-lad life of ease
Would barter its purse of gold for these.

CAMPAIN STARTED FOR SUNDAY SCHOOL ATTENDANCE

(By the Associated Press)
TULSA, Mar. 3.—Through a campaign with the co-operation of all public schools in the city the religious work department of the Tulsa Y. M. C. expects to increase attendance in Tulsa Sunday schools by at least 50 percent by early spring. It has been announced.

A complete census of the city has been completed through the schools which gives the girls' work department the desired information on children, regular attendants or delinquents at Sunday school.

School teachers assisted in the census and directed their pupils to fill out questionnaires and thousands of these cards are now on file at the Y. W. offices. Every child in the city over 12 years of age who attends school is included. With this information the Y. W. workers expect to visit the homes of children who admit they are not attending any church or Sunday school.

WIVES OF PUBLIC MEN KILLED MAY GET INDEMNITY

(By the Associated Press)
OKLAHOMA CITY, Mar. 2.—Indemnity to widows and minor children of public officers who are killed or permanently injured in the exploit of their duties would be granted in a bill introduced in the state senate Monday by Senator Ingraham, republican of Sapulpa. The measure authorizes any county, township, city, municipality, town or village to effect and carry accident indemnity insurance for the benefit of dependents of officers killed in line of duty. Sheriffs, deputy sheriffs, policemen, constables or other law enforcement officers who may be killed or permanently injured without fault while in the actual discharge of their duties are named in the bill as officers subject to indemnities on the communities. The premium for the insurance carried on the officers would be paid out of the general fund of such communities, according to the bill.

Collections from the policies carried on the officers are made payable to the chairman of the board of county commissioners, who in turn will deposit with the beneficiary. Actual expenses of collection would be deducted by the trustee, according to the bill, the widow receiving no less than one-half of the insurance and the remainder distributed equally among the minor children.

The bill further provides that such insurance shall be exempt from seizure under execution, by attachment or garnishment or other process of law for debts.

WRECK AUTOMOBILES FOR INSURANCE POLICE RELIEVE

(By the Associated Press)
BUFFALO, Mar. 3.—The finding of the wrecks of seventeen automobiles at the foot of a cliff on the south shore of Lake Erie, a few miles west of Buffalo, has convinced the police that companies insuring against theft have been systematically cheated. Insurance companies, in self defense, are carefully examining candidates for insurance of this kind.

In this lake shore graveyard of automobiles are makes of many sorts, from the plain runabout up to the pretentious limousine. Marks on the edge of the 85-foot cliff indicate that the automobiles were set afire before being sent over.

The theory of the police is that the machines were stolen from their owners, insured against theft under fictitious names, reported stolen so that the insurance could be collected and then destroyed to prevent detection for theft.

Police records show that in three months 484 cars were stolen, 41 of which were found burned or destroyed and 108 are still listed as missing.

Tulsa Endeavors to Capital.

TULSA, Mar. 3.—More than a hundred members of Christian Endeavor societies of Tulsa expect to attend the next annual convention of state societies to be held in Oklahoma City, June 6 and 9, according to Miss Emma McGiaren of Tulsa, a member of the executive committee. Miss McGiaren has been advised from Oklahoma City that more than 500 have already registered as delegates to the convention.

LARGE FUND SUBSCRIBED TO PHILLIPS UNIVERSITY

ENID, Mar. 3.—A fund of $113,272.16 has been subscribed to the Phillips University quota raised in a campaign to advance the curriculum and facilities of the school. After nearly two years of effort the quota was reached last week when a $10,000 donation of stock in the Texas Natural Gas company was fixed to Phillips campaign fund.

A gift of $60,000 by H. H. Rogers of Tulsa for the erection of a boys' dormitory is also made possible through the attainment of the quota. A meeting of the board of trustees of the university has been called for the purpose of formulating plans for improvements. More than 1,100 students are enrolled in the school, according to the president.

GAY OLD MEN

"SAM JAGWAY was trying to be funny, this morning," related the horse doctor. "He saw some boys turning handspins, and undertook to show them how the trick used to be done in the halcyon days, and the doctor says he wrenched his back so he'll be in bed for several days."

"Disasters of that sort usually happen to the graybeard who tries to demonstrate that he isn't any older than he was forty years ago," commented the village patriarch. "I'm always being tempted to do some idiotic thing, and have to suppress such impulses with a mailed fist. It's all the outcome of vanity. A man hates to admit that he's a back number. He wants to assure the plain people that, notwithstanding his gray whiskers and string-halted legs, he's a four-horse team with a dog under the wagon, when it comes to athletic skill."

"I was in the livery barn the other evening, when young Fretzinger began explaining that he had been taking boxing lessons from one of the old masters. He had learned all the tricks of the game, and was just suffering agonies because there was no body present who would stand up and exchange scientific swats with him."

"In my younger days, if I do say it myself, I was a star performer in the ordinary knock-down-and-drag-out form of combat, but I never was worth shucks at boxing. Nobody knows that better than I do. Why, then, did I inform Fretzinger that I would be glad to spar a few rounds with him? It surely was vanity and nothing else. I had an idea that, while he might have plenty of the fancy stuff on hand, I might land one of my old-time haymakers; in which case I felt sure the town would soon be ringing with the story of an old man's prowess."

"So I took off my long flanneling coat, and my vest, and stood up for battle. If anybody tells you, my friends, that Fretzinger doesn't know how to wield his hands, you may regard the story as a roebuck. I never saw fists so numerous as on that occasion. I couldn't see anything else for a while, and they landed on me in many unexpected places, and I don't remember a time when I was so embarrassed."

"Fretzinger explained afterward that he merely tapped me gently because I was a venerable man, old enough to be his grandfather. In that case I never want to become involved in an argument with him when he is in earnest. I had a black eye for a week after this, recital, and my nose has never satisfied me since. Every time I came downtown, I had to explain to a thousand people that I blackened my eye while sparring, or that I dropped a sad-iron on it. There is nothing more humiliating than a black eye, and I made up my mind that I'd try to realize my advanced age thereafter, and behave myself like a grave and reverend man."

"But no sooner had my eye recovered than I was in trouble again. I saw some young men wrestling, and paused to point out that they didn't know the rudiments of the game. I assured them that in my younger days I was a holy terror, and I didn't think that my hand had lost its cunning. It would afford me genuine happiness, I said, to show them how wrestling was done in the palfrey days of Muldoon and Whistler."

"So I removed my coat and vest and went into executive session with a husky young man who had no respect for gray hairs. I am not sure about what followed, but I think he must have thrown me over his head. Anyhow, I made a great dent in the earth with my person, and I was so sore for two weeks that I had to take myself around in a wheelbarrow. Of course, I am determined to make no more bad breaks of the kind, but I haven't much confidence in myself, and tomorrow you may see me climbing a tree half a mile high, to show some boys how to rob birds' nests."

Economy.

"Here is a fine tonic which will quickly bring back your husband's appetite."

"Dear me, doctor, I've been getting along so fine with my market money since he lost his appetite."—Boston Transcript.

The Compromise.

"Does your wife object to your playing golf?"

"No, we've made a compromise."

"That so?"

"Yep. She's perfectly willing to have me play the game, but she insists on my not talking about it after I get home."

THRIFT IS NEW COURSE OF STUDY FOR SCHOOLS

(By the Associated Press)

OKLAHOMA CITY, Mar. 3.—A course of study in "thrift" will be added to the curriculum of the public schools of Oklahoma under a resolution adopted at a recent meeting of state superintendents of public instruction of seven states held in Kansas City, R. H. Wilson, state superintendent, announced here today. The states, comprising the Tenth Federal Reserve district, endorsed the action of the national association and adopted a resolution urging the teaching of thrift in schools of the respective states.

The outline of study would include thrift in time and materials; thrift in money and investments; and thrift in labor and recreation, according to the resolution. Civic clubs and parent-teacher organizations were urged to inspire interest of the youth in the importance of aiding the educational associations in thrift work both in the home and in the schools.

Requiring the need for patriotic teaching, the resolution adopted by the superintendents called upon government securities to help finance the government, declaring securities should be a medium for teaching thrift, the value of money and the recognition of the sacredness of upholding the government with government securities.

The meeting was attended by superintendents R. H. Wilson, Oklahoma; Lorraine E. Wooster, Kansas; John M. Matzen, Nebraska; Katharine A. Morton, Wyoming; John V. Leeway, New Mexico; Sam A. Baker, Missouri; and Katherine L. Craig, Colorado.

State Asked to Help Stop Waste

TO young America, the school boys and girls of the United States, Federal and State Government officials and business men everywhere have turned in the hope that the country's enormous losses by fires, amounting in the past five years to $1,416,000,000, may be greatly reduced, if not almost entirely eliminated.

Following the example of New Jersey, where a law has just gone into effect prescribing instruction in the causes of fires and their prevention, as a part of public school work, the legislature of this State and those of most of the other States of the Union are expected to pass this year a bill providing for such instruction in the schools.

Under the leadership of the National Association of Credit Men and its affiliated State organizations the Federal Government, through the United States Bureau of Education and the United States Forest Service, is cooperating with the National Fire Protection Association, the Fire Marshals' Association of North America, the National Board of Fire Underwriters and other organizations to bring about a reduction in fire losses. The bill, if passed, will require that in every public school in the State, instruction be given to children in the causes of fires and the means of preventing them.

Each of the school children in the United States would learn how to prevent fire and would form habits of carefulness and consideration, it would go far in saving lives and property," says Dr. P. P. Claxton, United States Commissioner of Education, of this movement.

He has written to the educational departments of this and the other States urging them to cooperate in having the fire prevention education bills enacted at the present sessions.

in a movement for the adoption of State laws, like that in New Jersey, requiring public school instruction, for at least an hour a month, in fire causes and prevention.

"The proposed law is so simple and attacks the problem before us so directly," says J. H. Tregoe, secretary-treasurer of the Credit Men's Association, "that the measure should meet no opposition in any State."

It is hoped that as the result of this instruction the next generation will hate fire waste and the carelessness that causes it. In teaching fire prevention in the schools it is planned to strike at the root of the national evil by beginning with instruction of the children.

"If each of the school children in the United States would learn how to prevent fire and would form habits of carefulness and consideration, it would go far in saving lives and property," says Dr. P. P. Claxton, United States Commissioner of Education, of this movement.

OFFICERS TRY TO SAVE NEGRO FROM ANGRY MOB

(By the Associated Press)
OKMULGEE, Mar. 3.—Deputy sheriffs having in custody Charley Clark and E. G. Wallace, negroes, accused of shooting to death William Deatheridge, a white man, at Beggs last night, left Okmulgee this morning for another county, the name of which they refused to divulge, in order to prevent a possible lynching. The negroes were placed in jail here last night, following the killing, but early this morning word from Beggs that an angry crowd was preparing to come to Okmulgee in an effort to lynch the negroes, caused the officers to spirit them away.

Hospital Bill Passed.
(By the Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Mar. 3.—The senate adopted today and sent to the conference a bill providing for approximately fifteen million dollars for addition hospital facilities for disabled service men.

The appropriation was contained in the sundry civil bill, but after the senate had been advised that the measure probably would fail it was decided to include the hospital item in a separate bill.

PLAN WAR AGAINST CAR THIEVES IN OKLAHOMA

(By the Associated Press)

TULSA, Mar. 3.—The Tulsa chapter, headquarters of the automobile club of Oklahoma, took steps at a recent meeting looking to an unrelenting war against the car thief. Other clubs over the state will be notified of this action and it will be recommended that a similar move be made.

Members of the club have banded into a sort of a detective agency for mutual benefit and each member's car is marked with a design known only to members and so placed that it is not easily distinguishable to the thief who would obliterate marks of identification. E. Bee Guthrey, secretary is head of the "detective agency" and believes the plans of many auto thieves can be frustrated through this measure of co-operation.

WOMAN SLAYS HER AVENGER

Shoots Man Who Had Killed Two Others Who Had Attacked Her Honor.

ARGUES OVER MOTOR

First Husband Ambushed and Killed Six Years Ago—Her Ranch Foreman and His Father Were Shot by Wilson.

Winfield, Kan.—A year and a half after he had shot two men to death on the main street of Tahlequah, Okla., to avenge his wife's honor, Homer S. Wilson, himself, was shot and killed on a lonely country road, near Winfield, Kan., by Mrs. Wilson. He is the fourth man intimately acquainted with his pretty dark-haired wife, who has perished.

Charles West, first husband of Mrs. Wilson, was shot and killed from ambush near Tahlequah six years ago. Then Frank Anthony and his father, William, fell at Wilson's hands because Wilson charged young Anthony, foreman of Mrs. Wilson's ranch, at Tahlequah, had been too friendly with Mrs. Wilson while her husband was in the army.

Were Returning From Cattle Buying Trip.

Mrs. Wilson killed her husband as they were returning from a cattle buying trip to Dexter, 22 miles east of Winfield. With the Wilsons at the time were Charles Ridgeway and Ed Glass, who have ranches near Dexter.

Wilson had been driving his automobile very fast, according to the story told by eye witnesses to the tragedy. When a stop was made for tire trouble and Wilson left the car, Mrs. Wilson slid into the driver's seat, insisting she would drive. An argument followed and Mrs. Wilson suddenly shot twice with an automatic pistol she had taken from the flap of one of the seats.

After Wilson had been indicted into the service he complained to the draft officials that his wife had reported suffering at the hands of her former husband, Frank Anthony. When he returned from the army he engaged Anthony in a duel in the street, shooting him twice. The elder Anthony rushed around a corner and was shot dead by Wilson as he reached for his fallen son's gun.

Acquitted Under "Unwritten Law."

The successful duelist was acquitted by the jury under the "unwritten law." He testified at the hearing that his wife had confessed the Anthonys had ambushed and killed her former husband and had sworn also to kill Wilson.

Bathtub Is Too Warm.

Philadelphia.—Before going upstairs to take a bath, Solomon Salika, proprietor of a hardware store in Philadelphia, lighted an oil lamp and placed it in the store directly below the bathroom.

Later, Solomon, sitting in the bathtub, noticed that the water was becoming unusually warm. He turned on the cold water. It failed to reduce the temperature. Getting out to investigate, Solomon found flames eating through the floor beneath the tub. He suffered a $4,000 loss before firemen extinguished the blaze.

WHERE WILDERNESS IS KING IN ONTARIO'S ROMANTIC HIGHLANDS

TORONTO, ONT. — Algonquin Park has become one of the great all-the-year-round playgrounds of the continent. Its winter season now drawing to a close has been one of the most crowded in its history.

The park in the Ontario highlands on the Grand Trunk railway 200 miles north of Toronto contains 2,000 square miles of virgin forest. It is a wilderness almost at the doors of a score of great cities. Fifteen hundred lakes are embosomed in its unending woods of pine and balsam. It is a sanctuary for wild game. Villages of the beaver dot its innumerable streams. Deer, moose, fox and lynx have grown almost tame. Highland Inn furnishes all the comforts of civilization in the heart of primeval solitudes.

Snowshoeing has been one of the popular diversions this winter.

Ada Scouts Will Hold Inaugural Program at High Noon Friday

The biggest scout event of the year will be put on tomorrow at high noon by the Ada scouts when they give a mock inaugural on the streets of the city. Everything will be as near the inaugural as possible and it will furnish a good opportunity for Ada citizens to get a better idea of how the thing is done.

The ceremonies will take place at Main and Broadway and will be under the supervision of the Ada scouts. President Wilson, Vice-President Marshall, U. S. Chief Justice White, President-elect Harding, Vice President Coolidge, the cabinet and many other noted characters will be present. Come out and see them.

All scouts will be excused from school to participate in the parade. Those who attend the ward schools and Normal will be excused at 10:30 a. m. and all scouts in High school will be excused at 11 a. m. They will all go to the scout headquarters immediately after being excused.

Scouts are to assemble at the Parties of merry makers have been constantly on the trail. Many have come out at night to enjoy the beauties of the snow-drifted forest under moonlight. Ice fishing, ski running, tobogganning and skating have been favorite sports. Camera devotees have held high carnival snapping wild creatures in their winter homes.

Soon winter weather will transform the park and the influx of summer visitors will begin. Outfitting at the park store, these will spend their outing in canoeing, bathing, fishing and exploring far corners of the wilderness under expert guides. The lakes are so interlocked by innumerable streams that one may paddle a canoe a day's journey without a portage. The waters swarm with speckled trout, black bass and muskellunge. International anglers have pronounced Algonquin Park the best fishing grounds in North America.

headquarters in troops, each patrol leader lining his patrol together. The parade will be held between 11 and 12 o'clock and the ceremonies will take place near the Model Clothing store on Main street. This space has been reserved for the scouts and all parties are asked not to park any cars there tomorrow morning.

Every scout who has a scout uniform is requested to meet at the city hall tonight at 7 o'clock.

Health of Women.

How many perfectly well women do you know? Isn't it true that in order to keep up with the march of progress the endurance of woman is often strained to its utmost and the tax upon her physical system is in many cases greater than she can stand. Headaches develop, and nervous irritability, backache, dragging down sensations, and other painful ailments peculiar to women. The reliable remedy when a woman gets into such a condition is Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, as for nearly half a century it has proved the natural restorative for these troubles.

KEEP URIC ACID OUT OF JOINTS

Fells Rheumatism Sufferers to Eat Less Meat and Take Salts.

Rheumatism is easier to avoid than to cure, states a well-known authority. We are advised to dress warmly; keep the feet dry; avoid exposure; eat less meat, but drink plenty of good water.

Rheumatism is a direct result of eating too much meat and other rich foods that produce uric acid which is absorbed into the blood. It is the function of the kidneys to filter this acid from the blood and cast it out in the urine; the pores of the skin are also a means of freeing the blood of this impurity. In damp and chilly cold weather the skin pores are closed thus forcing the kidneys to do double work, they become weak and sluggish and fail to eliminate the uric acid which keeps accumulating and irritating through the system eventually settling in the joints and muscles causing stiffness, soreness and pain called rheumatism.

At the first twinge of rheumatism get from any pharmacy about four ounces of Jad Salts; put a tablespoonful in a glass of water and drink before breakfast each morning for a week. This is said to eliminate uric acid by stimulating the kidneys to normal action, purities.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, harmless and is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia and is used with excellent results by thousands of folks who are subject to rheumatism.

Aching in the small of the back is an indication of kidney disease. The proper course in such cases is to begin at once the use of Prickly Ash Bitters. It is an effective kidney remedy and system regulator. Price $1.25 per bottle. Sold by Gwin & Mays Drug Co.

Unwary Man Sets Pace in Ada

Driven from Streets by Jeers, As Result

Nonchalantly, although majestically, he turned off Broadway into Main street and headed west. To all intents and purposes he was just an ordinary business man, like his hundreds of brothers who were on the streets at the time. In all probability he was upon some business mission bent. In his general appearance there was naught to set him apart and distinguish him above the other pedestrians. And yet he was immediately singled out and the attention of hundreds was focused upon him.

He slowly threaded his way through the crowds that were milling forth and back along the sidewalks. As he would approach a group of men they would part and a department store. The loafers along the side walks rubbed their eyes several times, stared in amazement and then openly gawfixed at the ludicrous sight he presented.

Pursued he the uneven tenor of his erratic way. Slowly it began to dawn upon him that he was being made the butt of ridicule for the multitudes. He quickened his pace. He would get away from the laughing throngs. His composure vanished, his nonchalance was of the past. Where the moment before he had been oblivious of his surroundings, he at once became the personification of self-consciousness. He was an unhappy condition, an unenviable position.

A group of school children how into view just ahead. He saw rocks in the offing should he pass them, but he dared not turn back. His anticipations were realized. The little ones no longer saw him than they began to send forth peals of laughter, interspersed with cutting shafts of critical comment. 'Twas a sight that was afforded but one time each year and they did not hesitate to make the most of it.

The unhappy man quickened his pace. He was almost running. Would the block never end? Were there no side streets?

And then came the deluge! With the latest issue hot from the press, a score of little newsboys came running down the street, crying at the top of their shrill little voices, "Evening News! Get the Evening News." They saw the marked man. Not a minute did they hesitate. They momentarily forgot that they had papers to sell. In unison they turned upon the miserable pedestrian. Their cries will haunt him for many days. As he hurriedly turned into a hospitable side street and made his escape from public view the shrill shrieks of the little newsies still followed him.

"Pipe the straw Kelley! Get on to the new lid!"

It was the first straw hat of the season.

Hobo Gets Work; But Decides Ada Is Not Good Place to Thrive

The mayor of this city was successful in putting one over a hobo recently when said hobo came a begging for food at his back door. The man picked the wrong place when he came to the mayor's home, and after telling the regular line of excuses about being out of work etc., he was given food.

"Do you want a job?" asked the mayor, "we don't allow begging in this city, and you will have to work."

"Yes, sir, I will work, but as I told you I can't get work," was his half hearted reply.

"We'll fix that," said the mayor with a reassuring smile, "you go over to the city hall and I will see that you get work."

The man did as he was told and when he arrived at the hall he was put to work with the men who were repairing the fire damage. After a half day's hard labor, probably the hardest he had done in many days, the man decided to look for fairer and fatter fields, so he took himself away during the night and when the morning sun found him, many miles separated him from this beautiful and prosperous city.

Effects of Constipation

Constipation causes a stoppage of the sewerage system of the body. The poisonous refuse matter that should be carried away is retained in the system and often poisons the blood and causes numerous disorders. No one can afford to neglect his bowels. A dose of Chamberlain's Tablets will afford relief. Avoid drastic cathartics as they take too much water out of the system and their use is likely to be followed by constipation.

Cops Get Coupie of Street Loafers; Are Released by Mayor

Two street loafers were taken in last night by the city cops and when the mayor arrived at his office this a. m. he found them awaiting his pleasure. The offenders of the law were given a trail and the evidence against them, though not serious was considered worth a good amount of the "fatherly advice" of which the mayor is fond of bestowing on his visitors.

The men were released with the promise that they would take themselves elsewhere in the wee small hours than on the streets of the city. The cops are after any man who dares loiter on the streets at an unusually late hour without a good excuse.

If you don't sleep well at night from nervousness, indigestion or urinary troubles, you need Prickly Ash Bitters. It purifies the system and relieves the kidneys and bladder. Price $1.25 per bottle. Gwin & Mays Drug Co., special agents. (a)
